

Andre Labuschagne

Lead Technical Engineer
Guildford

My typical working day

Check my emails and the helpdesk. Have the pleasure of having breakfast when there have been boarders in. Then I deal with the issues that have been logged and check for any issues with devices.

I joined inTEC in...

July 2021

If I was stranded on a desert island, ONE item I would need is...

Mobile device with satellite communication

Maintaining work/life balance

Not to have any work related products on any of my personal devices. This way I am only contacted when I am really required to help.

What most interests you about the tech industry?

How it helps improving the experience of others.

I enjoy the challenges that I face each day. Most of all I enjoy the pleasure displayed by the school community I serve when I help them with something that they did not know or are struggling with.

Best bits about my role...

My proudest moment so far...

Have started mapping out the network at the school. The school has become serverless and all is in the cloud.

I define success as...

By seeing a smile on the face of anyone that has been struggling with something and I have been able to assist.

My pet peeve is...

Swearing and abuse of peoples beliefs.

Unknown fact about me!

I enjoy reading historical fiction. Currently reading a book by James A Michener called Covenant. The book is very much about the history of South Africa. From its inception as a waystation by the Dutch until the late 1980's. I am from the French Huguenot stock that was settled there.
